General Instructions

Do not use this form for a year before 2002. Instead, use the November 2000 revision of Form 8867.

Purpose of Form

Paid preparers of Federal income tax returns or claims for refund involving the earned income credit (EIC) must meet the due diligence requirements in determining if the taxpayer is eligible for, and the amount of, the EIC. Failure to do so could result in a $100 penalty for each failure. See Internal Revenue Code section 6695(g).

Due Diligence Requirements. You will meet the due diligence requirements if all four of the following apply.

1. You complete Form 8867 (or your own form as long as it provides the same information as Form 8867).
2. You complete the EIC worksheet(s) in the Form 1040, 1040A, or 1040EZ instructions, or in Pub. 596 (or your own worksheet(s) as long as it provides the same information as the 1040, 1040A, 1040EZ, or Pub. 596 worksheet(s)).
3. You have no knowledge that any of the information used to determine if the taxpayer is eligible for, and the amount of, the EIC is incorrect.
4. You keep the following information for 3 years*:
 - Form 8867 (or your own form),
 - The EIC worksheet(s) (or your own worksheet(s)), and
 - A record of how, when, and from whom the information used to prepare the form and worksheet(s) was obtained.

*For returns and claims for refund due after October 16, 2000, the 3-year period begins the June 30th following the date you give the return or claim to the taxpayer to sign.

Specific Instructions

Line 2

If the taxpayer was married at the end of the year, he or she must usually file a joint return to take the EIC. However, if the taxpayer and his or her spouse were not living together at the end of the year, the taxpayer may be eligible to be treated as unmarried. See Pub. 596 for details.

Line 3

For purposes of taking the EIC, a valid SSN is a number issued by the Social Security Administration unless "Not Valid for Employment" is printed on the social security card and the number was issued solely to apply for or receive a Federally funded benefit. You may find it useful to look at the social security card.

Line 6

If the child is the taxpayer's brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of the taxpayer's brother, sister, stepbrother, or stepsister, the taxpayer must have cared for the child as his or her own child.

An adopted child includes a child placed with the taxpayer by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption.

A descendant usually refers to a grandchild or great-grandchild of the taxpayer. A niece or nephew is also considered a descendant of the taxpayer.

A foster child is a child placed with the taxpayer by an authorized placement agency and whom the taxpayer cared for as his or her own child.

Line 7

If the child is married and the child's other parent claimed him or her as a dependent under the special rules for children of divorced or separated parents, check "Yes."

Line 10d

If you checked "Yes" on line 10a, the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of both the taxpayer and at least one other person. However, only one person can take the EIC based on that child. The other person(s) cannot take the EIC for people who do not have a qualifying child, but may take the EIC based on a different qualifying child. The taxpayer and the other person(s) can decide who will take the EIC based on that qualifying child.

Tie-Breaker Rules. If the taxpayer and the other person(s) cannot agree on who will take the EIC, the following rules apply.

- If only one of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent.
- If both persons are the child's parents, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent with whom the child lived for the longer period of time during the year entered on line 1. If the child lived with each parent for the same amount of time, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the parent who had the higher adjusted gross income (AGI) for the year entered on line 1.
- If none of the persons is the child's parent, the child will be treated as the qualifying child of the taxpayer who had the highest AGI for the year entered on line 1.

If you checked "Yes" on line 10c and "No" on line 10d, the child would not be treated as a qualifying child of the taxpayer under the tie-breaker rules.

Line 11

See the line 3 instructions for the definition of a valid SSN. If the child does not have a valid SSN because he or she was born and died during the year entered on line 1, check "Yes."
