General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code.

What's New

Taxpayers that are not partnerships, S corporations, or cooperatives, and whose only source of this credit is from those pass-through entities, are not required to complete or file this form. Instead, they can report this credit directly on line 1w of Form 3800.

Purpose of Form

Use Form 8911 to figure your credit for alternative fuel vehicle refueling property you placed in service during the tax year. The credit attributable to depreciable property (refueling property used for business or investment purposes) is treated as a general business credit. Any credit not attributable to depreciable property is treated as a personal credit. For more details, see section 30C.

Amount of Credit

The credit is generally the smaller of 30% of the property's cost or:

- $30,000 for each property of a character subject to an allowance for depreciation (business/investment use property), and
- $1,000 for each property of a character not subject to an allowance for depreciation (personal use property).

Each property's cost must first be reduced by any section 179 expense deduction taken for the property.

Qualified Alternative Fuel Vehicle Refueling Property

Qualified alternative fuel vehicle refueling property is any property (other than a building or its structural components) used to do either of the following.

- Store or dispense a clean-burning fuel (defined below) into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle propelled by the fuel, but only if the storage or dispensing is at the point where the fuel is delivered into that tank.
- Recharge motor vehicles propelled by electricity, but only if the property is located at the point where the vehicles are recharged.

In addition, the following requirements must be met to qualify for the credit.

- You placed the refueling property in service after 2005.
- The original use of the property began with you.
- You acquired the property for your use or to lease to others, and not for resale.
- You use the refueling property primarily in the United States.
- If the property is not business/investment use property, the property must be installed on property used as your main home.

Exception. If you are the seller of new refueling property to a tax-exempt organization, governmental unit, or a foreign person or entity, and the use of that property is described in section 50(b)(3) or (4), you can claim the credit, but only if you clearly disclose in writing to the purchaser the amount of the tentative credit allowable for the refueling property (included on line 7 of Form 8911). Treat all property eligible for this exception as business/investment use property.

Clean-burning fuel. The following are clean-burning fuels.

- Any fuel at least 85 percent of the volume of which consists of 1 or more of the following: ethanol, natural gas, compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, liquefied petroleum gas, or hydrogen, or
- Any mixture of biodiesel (as defined in section 40A(d)) or renewable diesel and diesel fuel, determined without regard to any use of kerosene and containing at least 20 percent biodiesel or renewable diesel.

Basis Reduction

Unless you elect not to take the credit, you must reduce the basis of the property by the sum of the amounts entered on lines 7 and 13 for that property.

Recapture

If the property no longer qualifies for the credit, you may have to recapture part or all of the credit. For details, see section 30C(e)(5).

Specific Instructions

Line 2

To figure the business/investment use part of the total cost, multiply the cost of each separate refueling property by the percentage of business/investment use for that property. If during the tax year you convert property used solely for personal purposes to business/investment use (or vice versa), figure the percentage of business/investment use only for the number of months you use the property in your business or for the production of income. Multiply that percentage by the number of months you use the property in your business or for the production of income and divide the result by 12.

Line 3

Enter any section 179 expense deduction you claimed for the property from Part I of Form 4562, Depreciation and Amortization.

Line 6

If you only have one refueling property with business/investment use, enter $30,000.

If you have more than one refueling property with business/investment use, but no one property would result in an amount of more than $30,000 if that property were reported separately on line 5, enter the amount from line 5 on line 6. If you have more than one refueling property with business/investment use, and at least one property would result in an amount of more than $30,000 on line 5 if that property were reported separately, add the separate amounts for each property, but do not include in the total more than $30,000 for any single property.

Line 12

If you only have one refueling property with personal use, enter $1,000.

If you have more than one refueling property with personal use, but no one property would result in an amount of more than $1,000 if that property were reported separately on line 11, enter the amount from line 11 on line 12. If you have more than one refueling property with personal use, and at least one property would result in an amount of more than $1,000 on line 11 if that property were reported separately, add the separate amounts for each property, but do not include in the total more than $1,000 for any single property.

Line 17

Although you may not owe alternative minimum tax (AMT), you must still figure the tentative minimum tax (TMT) to figure your credit. Complete and attach the applicable AMT form or schedule and enter the TMT on line 17.

Line 19

If you cannot use part of the personal portion of the credit because of the tax liability limit, the unused credit is lost. The unused personal portion of the credit cannot be carried back or forward to other tax years.
