Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service

(Rev. January 2007)

Employer's MONTHLY Federal Tax Return

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

What's New

Social security wage base for 2007. Stop withholding social security tax after an employee reaches $97,500 in taxable wages. (There is no limit on the amount of wages subject to Medicare tax.)

Reminders

Telephone help. If you have questions about completing Form 941-M, call the IRS toll free at 1-800-829-4933 on Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. local time (Alaska and Hawaii follow Pacific time).

General Instructions

Purpose of form. Use Form 941-M to report monthly: (a) federal income tax you withheld from wages, tips, distributions from nonqualified pension plans (including nongovernmental section 457(b) plans), supplemental unemployment compensation benefits, and third-party payments of sick pay; and (b) social security and Medicare taxes. If you report just one kind of tax, fill in only the lines that apply.

Form 941-M is not for general public use and should only be filed directly with an IRS compliance representative.

Who must file. File Form 941-M if you must report federal income taxes withheld, social security taxes, and Medicare taxes on a monthly basis with an IRS compliance representative. The IRS may require monthly returns on Form 941-M and payments of tax from any employer who has not complied with the requirements for the filing of returns or the paying or depositing of taxes reported on quarterly or annual returns. Do not file monthly returns unless you received written notification from the IRS to do so. A preaddressed return envelope and blank Form 941-M will be mailed to you before your first monthly return is due and for each month thereafter. If you no longer expect to pay amounts subject to tax reportable on Form 941-M, check the box on line 16 and enter the date you last paid wages.

When to file. Form 941-M for any month is due by the 15th day of the following month. If the due date for filing a return falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, you may file the return on the next business day.

Where to file. File Form 941-M, with any payment due, using the preaddressed envelope furnished to you. Keep a duplicate Form 941-M for your records.

Form W-5. Each eligible employee wishing to receive any advance earned income credit (EIC) payments must give you a completed Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. Your requirement to notify certain employees about the EIC can be met by giving each eligible employee Notice 797, Possible Federal Tax Refund Due to the Earned Income Credit (EIC). See section 10 of Pub. 15 (Circular E) and Pub. 596, Earned Income Credit (EIC), for more information.

Form W-2. By January 31, furnish Forms W-2 to employees who worked for you during the previous year. If an employee stops working for you before the end of the year, furnish Form W-2 to the employee any time after employment ends but no later than January 31 of the following year. However, if the employee asks you for Form W-2, furnish the completed form within 30 days after the request or the final wage payment, whichever is later. Send Copy A of all Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, issued for the year with a Form W-3, Transmittal of Wage and Tax Statements, filed on paper, to the Social Security Administration (SSA) by the last day of February. If you file Forms W-2 electronically, file them with SSA by the last day of March.

If you file a final return on Form 941-M, you must furnish Form W-2 to your employees by the last day of the month in which the final Form 941-M is due. File Copy A of Forms W-2 and Form W-3 with the Social Security Administration by the last day of the month following the month your final Form 941-M was due. See the Instructions for Forms W-2 and W-3 for details.

Penalties and interest. There are penalties for filing a return late and paying or depositing taxes late, unless there is reasonable cause. There are also penalties for failure to: (a) furnish Forms W-2 to employees and file copies with the SSA and (b) deposit taxes when required. (Do not attach an explanation of why the return is late to Forms W-2 sent to the SSA.) In addition, there are penalties for willful failure to file returns and pay taxes when due and for filing false returns or submitting bad checks. Interest is charged on taxes paid late at the rate set by law. See Pub. 15 (Circular E) for additional information.

A trust fund recovery penalty may apply if federal income, social security, and Medicare taxes that must be withheld are not withheld or are not paid. This penalty is the full amount of any unpaid trust fund tax. This penalty may apply to you if these unpaid taxes cannot be immediately collected from the employer or business. The trust fund recovery penalty may be imposed on all persons who are determined by the IRS to be responsible for collecting, accounting for, and paying over these taxes, and who acted willfully in not doing so.

A responsible person can be an officer or employee of a corporation, a partner or employee of a partnership, an accountant, a volunteer director/trustee, or any employee of a sole proprietorship. A responsible person also may include one who signs checks for the business or otherwise has authority to cause the spending of business funds. Willfully means voluntarily, consciously, and intentionally.

Related publications. Pub. 15 (Circular E) explains the rules for withholding, paying, depositing, and reporting federal income tax, social security and Medicare taxes, and federal unemployment (FUTA) tax on wages. See Pub. 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, for information on sick pay paid by third-party payers. Pub. 51 (Circular A), Agricultural Employer's Tax Guide, explains rules for employers of farmworkers. These publications are available by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676). See Pub. 15 (Circular E) for additional methods of obtaining forms and publications.

Reconciliation of Forms 941-M and W-3. Certain amounts reported on the monthly Forms 941-M for the year should agree with the Form W-2 totals reported on Form W-3. The amounts that should agree are: federal income tax withholding, social security wages, social security tips, Medicare wages and tips, and the advance earned income credit (EIC).

If the totals do not agree, the IRS may require you to explain the differences and correct any errors. See section 12 of Pub. 15 (Circular E) for details.

Specific Instructions

Part 1: Answer these questions for this month.

Line 1—Number of employees. For March, June, September, and December, report the number of employees on your payroll for the pay period that includes the 12th of the month. Leave line 1 blank for all other months. Do not include household employees, employees in nonpay status during the pay period, pensioners, or active members of the Armed Forces. An entry of 250 or more on line 1 indicates you must file Forms W-2 electronically. Call the SSA at 1-800-772-6270 or access the SSA website at www.socialsecurity.gov/employer for more information on electronic filing of Forms W-2.

Line 2—Wages, tips, and other compensation. Enter amounts on line 2 that would also be included in box 1 of your employees' Forms W-2. See the Instructions for Forms W-2 and W-3 for details.

If you get timely notice from your insurance carrier concerning the amount of third-party sick pay it paid to your employees, include the sick pay on line 2.

Line 3—Total income tax withheld from wages, tips, and other compensation. Enter the federal income tax you withheld (or were required to withhold) on wages, tips, taxable fringe benefits, sick pay, other compensation, and supplemental unemployment compensation benefits. Also include here any excise taxes you were required to withhold on golden parachute payments (section 4999).

Line 4—If no wages, tips, and other compensation are subject to social security or Medicare tax. If no wages, tips, and other compensation on line 2 are subject to social security or Medicare tax, check the box on line 4. If this question does not apply to you, leave the box blank. For more information about exempt wages, see section 15 of Pub. 15 (Circular E) and section 4 of Pub. 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide.

Line 5a—Taxable social security wages. Enter the total wages subject to social security taxes you paid to your employees during the month. Also include any sick pay and taxable fringe benefits subject to social security taxes. Enter the amount before deductions. Do not include tips on this line. Stop reporting for any employee whose wages (including tips) reach $97,500 for 2007. However, continue to withhold income and Medicare taxes for the whole year on wages and tips even when the limit of $97,500 is reached. See the Line 5c instructions for Medicare wages and tips.

Line 5b—Taxable social security tips. Enter all tips your employees reported during the month until tips and wages for an employee reach $97,500 in 2007. Do this even if you were not able to withhold the employee tax (6.2%). Report the uncollected employee's share of social security tax on line 7c. Also see section 6 of Pub. 15 (Circular E).

An employee must report to you cash tips, including tips you paid the employee for charge customers, totaling $20 or more in a month by the 10th day of the next month. The employee may use Form 4070, Employee's Report of Tips to Employer, or give you a written statement.

Do not include allocated tips on this line. Instead, report them on Form 8027, Employer's Annual Information Return of Tip Income and Allocated Tips. Allocated tips are not reportable on Form 941-M and are not subject to withholding of federal income, social security, or Medicare tax.

Line 5c—Taxable Medicare wages and tips. Report all wages and tips subject to Medicare tax. Also include any sick pay and taxable fringe benefits subject to Medicare tax. See section 5 in Pub. 15 (Circular E) for information on types of wages subject to Medicare tax. If none of the payments are subject to Medicare tax, enter "0-0."

Include all tips your employees reported during the month, even if you were not able to withhold the employee tax (1.45%). Report the uncollected employee's share of Medicare tax on line 7c. Also see section 6 of Pub. 15 (Circular E).

Line 7—TAX ADJUSTMENTS. Enter tax amounts on lines 7a–7g that result from current or prior period adjustments. Use parentheses (if possible) to show an adjustment that decreases the total taxes shown on line 6. Otherwise, use a minus sign. Do not enter an amount on line 7f or line 7g unless the IRS has sent you a notice instructing you to do so. See the Instructions for Form 941 for more information.

Current period adjustments. In certain cases, amounts reported as social security and Medicare taxes on lines 5a–5c must be adjusted to arrive at your correct tax liability. See section 13 of Pub. 15 (Circular E) for information on the following adjustments:

- Fractions-of-cents adjustment.
- Adjustment for the employee share of social security and Medicare taxes withheld by a third-party sick pay payer.
- Adjustment for the uncollected employee share of social security and Medicare taxes on tips.
- Adjustment for the employee share of social security and Medicare taxes on group-term life insurance premiums paid for former employees.

Prior period adjustments. Use lines 7d–7g to correct errors in taxes reported on an earlier return, including errors from a previous month of the current quarter. For example, if you are correcting an error in social security and Medicare taxes reported on your July 2007 Form 941-M and you found the error in September 2007, report the adjustment using line 7e of your September 2007 Form 941-M.

If you report both an underpayment and an overpayment, show only the net difference.

You must explain any prior period adjustments on an attached Form 941c, Supporting Statement To Correct Information.

Line 9—Advance earned income credit (EIC) payments made to employees. Enter advance EIC payments made to employees. Your eligible employees may elect to receive part of the EIC as an advance payment. Eligible employees who have a qualifying child must give you a completed Form W-5 stating they qualify for the EIC. Once the employee gives you a signed and completed Form W-5, you must make the advance EIC payments. Advance EIC payments are generally made from withheld federal income tax and employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes. See section 10 of Pub. 15 (Circular E) and Pub. 596 for more information on advance EIC payments and eligibility requirements.

If the amount of your advance EIC payments exceeds your total taxes (line 8) for the month, you may claim a refund of the overpayment or elect to have the credit applied to your return for the following month. Provide a statement with your return identifying the amount of excess payment(s) and the pay period(s) in which it was paid. See section 10 of Pub. 15 (Circular E).

Line 12—Balance due. If line 10 is more than line 11, write the difference in line 12. Otherwise, see Line 13—Overpayment below. You do not have to pay if line 12 is under $1.

If you fail to make deposits as required and instead pay the taxes with Form 941-M, you may be subject to a penalty.

Line 13—Overpayment. If line 11 is more than line 10, write the difference in line 13. Never make an entry in both lines 12 and 13.

If you deposited more than the correct amount for a month, you can have the overpayment refunded (applies only to March, June, September, and December Forms 941-M) or applied to your next return. Show any amount applied in the Record of Federal Tax Liability and Deposits on your next return.

If line 13 is under $1, we will send a refund or apply it to your next return only on written request.

Part 2: Tell us about your tax liability and deposit schedule for this month.

Special deposit account. Do not make deposits using the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS) or Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon, and do not complete line 14, Record of Federal Tax Liability and Deposits, if you are required to have a special deposit account under section 7512(b). If you have received, by hand delivery, Form 2481, Notice To Make Special Deposits of Taxes, you must deposit in a separate bank account any taxes collected or required by law to be collected. Your deposit must be made not later than the end of the second banking day after any taxes were required to be collected from your employees. The taxes deposited must be kept in the account until paid with any employer tax that may be due. The account must be designated as a special fund in trust for the United States, payable to the "United States Treasury" by you as trustee. For the definition of the term "bank," see Form 2481.

Federal tax deposits. If you are not required to have a special deposit account, in general, you must deposit your tax liability at an authorized financial institution with Form 8109 or by using EFTPS. For more information on the deposit rules and the electronic deposit requirements, see section 11 of Pub. 15 (Circular E).

Line 14—Record of Federal Tax Liability and Deposits. If you must deposit taxes using the Federal Tax Deposit System, complete both columns of the record. In the tax liability column, include federal income tax withheld plus both the employer and employee shares of social security and Medicare taxes minus advance EIC payment (if any) for each date of payment (payday). Enter each deposit amount in the numbered entry space corresponding to the date of deposit.

Line 14a—Total tax liability for the month. The amount of this line must equal line 10 (Total taxes after adjustment for advance EIC). Otherwise, you may be subject to a penalty for failure to make deposits of taxes.

Part 3: Tell us about your business.

In Part 3, answer only those questions that apply to your business. If a question does not apply, leave it blank and go to Part 4.

Line 16—If Your Business Has Closed . . .

If you go out of business or stop paying wages, you must file a final return. To tell IRS a particular Form 941 is your final return, check the box on line 16 and enter the date you last paid wages in the space provided.

Line 17—If You Are a Seasonal Employer . . .

If you hire employees seasonally—such as for summer or winter only—check the box on line 17. Checking the box tells IRS not to expect Form 941-M from you every month because you have not paid wages regularly. However, you must check the box every time you file a Form 941-M. Also, be sure to check the box in the upper right corner of page 1 of Form 941-M that corresponds to the month reported.

Part 4: May we speak with your third-party designee?

If you want to allow an employee, a paid tax preparer, or another person to discuss your Form 941-M with the IRS, check the "Yes" box in Part 4. Then tell us the name and the five-digit personal identification number (PIN) of the specific person to speak with—not the name of the firm who prepared your tax return. The designee may choose any five numbers as his or her PIN.

By checking "Yes," you authorize the IRS to talk to the person you named (your designee) about any questions we may have while we process your return. You also authorize your designee to:

- give us any information that is missing from your return,
- call us for information about processing your return, and
- respond to certain IRS notices you have shared with your designee about math errors and return preparation. IRS will not send notices to your designee.

You are not authorizing your designee to bind you to anything (including additional tax liability) or to otherwise represent you before the IRS. If you want to expand your designee's authorization, see Pub. 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney.

The authorization will automatically expire 1 year from the due date for filing your Form 941-M. If you or your designee want to terminate the authorization, write to the IRS office for your locality using the "Without a payment" address under Where Should You File on page 4 in the Instructions for Form 941.

Part 5: Sign here— Who Must Sign the Form 941-M?

Form 941-M must be signed as follows.

- Sole proprietorship— The individual who owns the business.
- Corporation (including an LLC treated as a corporation)— The president, vice president, or other principal officer.
- Partnership (including an LLC treated as a partnership) or unincorporated organization— A responsible and duly authorized member or officer having knowledge of its affairs.
- Single member limited liability company (LLC) treated as a disregarded entity— The owner of the limited liability company (LLC).
- Trust or estate— The fiduciary.

Form 941-M may also be signed by a duly authorized agent of the taxpayer if a valid power of attorney has been filed.

Part 6: For Paid Preparers Only (optional)

You may complete Part 6 if you were paid to prepare Form 941-M and are not an employee of the filing entity. Sign in the space provided and give the filer a copy of the return in addition to the copy to be filed with the IRS. Do not complete Part 6 if you are filing the return as a reporting agent and have a valid Form 8655, Reporting Agent Authorization, on file with the IRS.
